Rain Makes Necessary the Postponement of High School Track and Field Meet

INTERSCHOLASTIC MEET POSTPONED

Rain Prevents Running Off of Field Track Games.

By KIRK C. MILLER.

Constant rainfall from early this morning until noon made necessary the indefinite postponement of the inter scholastic field and track meet which was scheduled for Col's e Park, Md. to begin at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Not until every possibility for a successful meet on the M. A. C. gorunds was rulned by incessant downpour, did the high school faculty advisors call off high school faculty advisors call off today's games.

Two high school events coming next week make it impossible for a new date to be set for the meet. The competitive drill of the high school cadet regiments will occupy the attention of the entire school faculty and student body for Bonday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, while on Friday the Eastern-Western championship baseball game will occupy the time of the majority of the athletes.

ression indicate that next Saturday may be the date named for the postponed track meet. This, however, is not definite, although that date is being entertained by the school officials.

Laughed at Ebbets.

Everybody laughed at Owner Ebbets last winter when he built a baselad plant with a capacity of 55.00. And now Eobets is jaughing at the erstwhile lauchers. If the Dodgers keep up their winning streak Ebbets may have to enlarge his park.

There have been threatening uprisings by Philadelphia, St. Louis, Cincinnati, etc., for several seasons. But they all succumbed to the Force of Habit after a brief parley. This, however, may be the season in which one of the Worms is due to turn. There has been enough trodding, Allah knows, to produce the first essence of a wiggle, anyway.

Brooklyn and Philadelphia, for example, are now up there through no freak spurt. They are there because they have been outplaying every rival handily. The Phillies have shown the best pitching in either league, and they are likely to show it quite a way yet. Brooklyn is playing regular baseball-and if either or both crack it will be, as suggested, from the force of habit—not through any weakness in playing strength.
